

HE KNEW IT.

Jailer Kraemer Was Informed in Advance of the Jail Delivery.

Detective Danaher Reported the Whole Plot to Him.

THE INFORMATION GIVEN TO DANAHER BY A WOMAN.

She Showed Him That She Knew All About the Plot by Telling Him of Certain Starting Things Which, on Investigation, Proved to Be True—Kraemer Will Probably Be Removed and Calahan Re-Appointed.

More than a week before the recent jail delivery by ten prisoners escaped from the St. Louis jail in open daylight, Jailer Kraemer knew of the plot ending in that escape.

He knew of it on the authority of a formal report made to him by the police, giving the details of the plot and the way in which the escape was to be effected.

The report exposing the plot was delivered to Jailer Kraemer in person, after having been drawn up by Detective Schoppe on information furnished by Detective Danaher. The police could go no further in the matter than that notification to the jailer. What action the jailer took on the information supplied by the police is not known to the official who gave him the information.

The only subsequent development in the case was the escape of the ten prisoners as it was told they would escape unless action was taken on the story exposing the plot.

Jailer Kraemer will have some trouble explaining this startling fact to the grand jury.

The story of the exposure of the jail delivery plot a week or more before it was successfully carried out, is now told below for the first time. It is told in full, and it leaves a terrible responsibility resting on Jailer Kraemer's shoulders.

DANAHER'S REPORT.

On the 24th day of September last Detective Danaher made a startling report to Capt. Young of the Central District. It was in the form of a statement made to Danaher by a woman, giving details of a plot to escape by which a jail delivery was to be effected, resulting in the escape of certain prisoners.

The certain prisoners were the very ones who did subsequently escape. The only addition to their number was that of the name of Wilson Howard, the prisoner whose story, told in the last Sunday Post-Dispatch, showed that he was a first time in full possession of the secret details of the jail delivery plot.

In the information given to Detective Danaher Wilson Howard was named as the prisoner through whose hands the details of the jail delivery plot were to be worked. The woman who made the statement to Danaher is known to the police and is known positively to have visited at the jail one of the prisoners who escaped by the success of the jail delivery conspiracy. Shortly before the escape this woman ceased visiting the prisoner in question, and there is evidence that she "went back" on the outside parties plotting the escape after having learned their secrets.

Her story to Danaher on Sept. 24 was to the effect that a jail delivery plot had been concocted and was about to be put in execution. She said that there was to be a package of saws, such as are used for cutting through iron bars.

The second package would consist of a pillow, presumably to be used by the prisoner in his cell. The pillow would contain a bottle of muriatic acid, which has been known to be effective sometimes in softening iron bars that were to be sawed through.

The receipt of the package by Wilson Howard was to be the first step in the escape of the certain gang of prisoners indicated by the woman as being in the plot.

"You will see that what I say is true," she said to Detective Danaher, "and you will be sent to Howard just as sure as you're alive."

THE KNEW IT ALL.

Then the woman, to show that she was really on the inside of an actual jail delivery plot, gave Danaher a sensational "pointer."

"There is a vacant cell just two doors from Jack Sheen's cell," she said. "If you examine the window of that cell you will find that the bars have been sawed through. That will show you that I know what I am talking about."

On the day that the woman had named the pair of shoes for Wilson Howard were duly brought to the jail.

Examination of the window of the vacant cell, two doors from Jack Sheen's cell, proved that the bars had been sawed through.

The woman stated further to Detective Danaher that all preparations on the outside for the escape of the prisoners were being made. She said that she was to be carried out to the outside, where she would be taken to the place where the escape was to be effected.

As soon as Danaher told the woman's story to Capt. Young he was advised to at once have it drawn up in the form of a report and submitted to Jailer Kraemer. The report was drawn up by Danaher's dictation of the story to Detective Schoppe.

That afternoon Detective Schoppe, in person, handed the report to Jailer Kraemer, who carefully perused it.

The only subsequent development, as stated, was the escape of the ten prisoners. Their escape was in close connection of the story told by the woman to Detective Danaher.

But in addition to the above facts, which were known to the police, there is another fact which was known to the police, and which was known to the police, and which was known to the police.

At the conclusion of the case the woman stated the brother went to the lively stable opposite the northeast corner of the four courts and tried to get a horse.

For some reason the lively stable proprietress refused to let him have one.

A FURIOUS GALE.

Vast Damage at Seaside Towns in England and Ireland.

TRAFFIC BY RAILROAD OR WATER BROUGHT TO A STANDSTILL.

Channel Passenger Boats Unable to Cross—Two Trains Stranded by Waves—People Driven From Their Homes—Dwellings and Boats Washed Out to Sea at Rockaway Beach.

London, Oct. 14.—The furious gale which has been raging all over England, Ireland and the south of Scotland for over twenty-four hours, and which has already done a vast amount of damage to the seaside towns, and which has wrecked a large number of vessels, continues to-day in all its intensity. In the cities and large towns chimneys and tiles were carried everywhere from the roofs of private dwellings; out-houses of wood crashed down as if built of cards; devastation was, during the height of the storm, utterly impossible and the traffic by railroad or water was brought to a complete standstill. At Folkestone, one of the great landing places for the trans-channel steamers, throughout the night the sea swept the great pier with immense waves, carrying away all the lighter portions of the structure and threatening to wrench away its most powerful supports. The light house at its extremity was deluged by the angry waters, and it was feared that it might be swept from its foundations. The channel passenger boats were unable to cross last night, and to those who know the weather there vessels venture out in, this gives some idea of the severity of the storm which prevailed.

To-day the storm is raging very heavily and is doing much damage. At Helysburg, a watering place on the Fifth of Clyde, the fishing and other boats, washed high and dry upon the beach upon the first approach of the gale, were carried along by the furious waves which poured in to the streets. Flooding the houses and driving the inmates from their homes, many escaping through the windows, by the waves, which washed over and over the roofs of the houses, and it is feared that many of the houses will be completely destroyed.

Two passenger trains were given the Glasgow and Helysburg were brought to a standstill by the intensity of the storm. The passengers were taken to the shore by the boats, and the locomotives were extinguished, completely stranding the trains and placing the lives of the passengers in peril. Escape from the cars was impossible, and all attempts made up to the present to reach the travelers have failed. From all sections come reports of damage done and lives endangered. The country roads are strewn with and blocked by fallen trees, twisted telegraph wires and broken telegraph poles. It is impossible as yet to give even an approximate idea of the damage done on land and sea or the lives lost. Instances of the furious work of the gale are constantly being recorded.

WASHED OUT TO SEA.

DAMAGE BY THE STORM AT POINTS ON THE ATLANTIC COAST.

New York, Oct. 14.—Waves nearly four feet high are lashing Rockaway Beach, pouring in from the sea and washing dwellings and boats out to sea. Many pleasure craft have been missing since Sunday, and it is feared that they have been lost with all on board.

Yesterday afternoon George White, Alfred Kane, Mark Thurbury and Alden Little began blowing. With the aid of a glass Mr. Balzer could see the small boats being rapidly blown out to sea. It was only a short time when the waves on the bay rose to eight and ten feet in height. Then darkness fell and no more could be seen. It was out of the question to launch a boat in such a sea. On Monday morning the sea was angrier still. Higher and higher the waves rose and the rainfall increased. The bay was a mass of wreckage. Boats could be seen on the crest of the waves, but no living

PLANS IN DANGER.

The Boulevard Law May Be Tested by Objecting Citizens.

PRESIDENT BURNETT AND COUNCILMAN CULLIHANE CONSULT ON THE MATTER.

Mayor Noonan Tells a Story About Mayor Francis and a River Report of Maj. Murphy Which the Commissioner Says Is a Mistake—The Engine-House Bills to Be Signed.

Having decided upon a boulevard system for the city the Board of Public Improvements intends to wait a little while and see how the people will take the plan.

When it was first proposed to make a boulevard of Page avenue, the property owners there made a strong protest, on account of the expense. From those living on Cook avenue came up to the City Hall and declared that Page avenue shouldn't be made a boulevard if they could help it. They seemed to think that with Page a boulevard, it would be a highway for heavy traffic. The Page avenue objectors heard that the Cook avenue residents had become allies, and at once they changed their minds, and became as anxious to have their street made a boulevard as they had been to prevent it.

But with other streets that have been picked out for boulevards, the board fears there may be trouble, and they are anxious to consult the property owners before they take any further steps. The fact is they fear that the boulevard law made by the Legislature will not stand in the courts if a fight is made on it by dissatisfied property owners who are willing to wait a year to test it, and they don't want to see the beautiful boulevard plans after so many weeks of map-making and discussion.

President George Burnett expressed this feeling of the board to-day in a talk with Councilman William Cullihan, who was anxious to be thoroughly informed about the boulevard plan. He told the Councilman that he had thought of the matter, and that it was as good as a law. He said that he had thought of the matter, and that it was as good as a law. He said that he had thought of the matter, and that it was as good as a law.

"Well, but we won't have any trouble," said President Burnett. "It is every body on the board who is willing to wait a year to test it, and they don't want to see the beautiful boulevard plans after so many weeks of map-making and discussion."

But the Street Commissioner would not be satisfied with this. He said that he had thought of the matter, and that it was as good as a law. He said that he had thought of the matter, and that it was as good as a law. He said that he had thought of the matter, and that it was as good as a law.

THE suspension of two suspected jail

THE facts about Detective DANABER's re-

the plot to escape.

MR. PORTER's defense of the census

WITH TROUBLES OF THEIR OWN.
They Told Their Stories and Complaints to Judge Parsons To-day.

Officers Meyers and Krasner arrested Ferdinand Hecks Monday night in a vacant house No. 247 St. Louis avenue and in the Second District Police Court this morning Chris Von der Ahe, Jr., prosecuted him. It developed that the officers found a razor, a comb, a razor, and a bunch of keys in the house and there was every evidence of a lead pipe cutting bee. He was fined $50.

Thomas English and Joseph E. H. who carried their squabbles into the Police Court. Bain had a summons issued against him for striking him with a piece of coal. English, who is a night watchman, accused him of making up the old time in the neighborhood and playing a grand can-can concert while English was asleep. The judge said that they should be ashamed of themselves. Two old men ready to step into the grave, did not know boys was ridiculous. English was fined $10.

Benjamin Ludwig of 630 Morgan street fell a victim to the ordinance which forbids the sweeping of dirt from the house to the street.
On the 20th of September, according to the evidence of Dan Hogan in Court to-day, Ludwig raised the wind with the sweep of his establishment and was fined $5 in consequence. The defendant stoutly did not know of the existence of the ordinance which was violated.

Joe Watson struck Michael Heberer with a chair Aug. 21, at Heberer's place of business, 220 Kossuth avenue, and after that triumphant trial to lure him out with offers of money, according to the evidence of Heberer and his brother at the trial to-day. Watson testified that he got acquainted with Heberer in March last at Heberer's barber shop and met at the same time a girl to whom he afterwards was married. After the marriage he alleges that Heberer spread scandalous reports about her. He even spoke to Watson, Sr., about her while she was a slave. Heberer acknowledged that he said things that reflected on the woman, but not since the marriage. Watson and his wife parted.
The defendant claimed, through the stories of Heberer, Watson was fined $10.

Found Dead in Bed.

WARSAW, Oct. 14.—Wm. Herbert, an old shoemaker who has lived here for over twenty-five years, was found dead in his bed last Sunday morning. Seven years ago he was left with a wife and three children, although barely able to make a living at his trade, he had managed to accumulate a small fortune for his child. She was taken to the house last Saturday, the day before he died.

Examination for Marine Hospital Service.

An examination for doctors for the marine service is in progress at the Marine Hospital in South St. Louis. It is expected to close on Friday. The Examining Board is composed of Drs. Purviance, Godfrey and Irwin. The National Board has other points of meeting, called "ports," as Memphis, St. Orleans, etc., and this year the meeting was decided to be held in St. Louis.

No one can ask more than an assurance that he can always obtain more than he pays for a home, should he desire to resell it. Our plan of selling home sites in Darst Place gives this assurance, so that even for speculation you will find it of interest. Sales are made on small monthly installments. For full par-

J. N. at Macon City.

J. N.'s cause is moving on. He is not urging his truths at any place. Prefers to have the force equalized before he asks his friends to assemble to hear him. He lifts the veil in the Court-house at Macon the 17th. In the Opera-house at Fayette on the 20th. At Moberly on the 21st and at Chillicothe on the 22d. All for the cause of truth.

Called to Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 14.—Prof. George Francis James of the University of Nashville has been appointed Lecturer on Literature in the University of Pennsylvania and editor of University Extension, the official organ of the American Society for the Extension of University Teaching. Mr. James was a student of the Northwestern and Michigan Universities and has done post-graduate work in the University of Halle, Germany, and the sor-bonne at Paris. Two years ago he gave up the principalship of the Decatur (Ill.) High school to go to Nashville, Tenn., where his position has been called to Philadelphia.

To Sue the Government.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 14.—Gen. N. P. Banks is to institute a suit against the United States Government for $1,000, which he claims it has owed him since he retired from the office of United States Marshal in 1860.

A WAITING POLICY.

The Course Pursued by Justin McCarthy and His Followers.

SEXTON STANDS THE BEST CHANCE OF BEING ELOATED LEADER.

The Contest for the Late Sir John Pope
Hennessy's Seat—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach on Parnell—Capt. O'Shea Writes a Letter—The New York Fanian Brotherhood.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Irish question is resting to-day. The McCarthyites are pursuing a waiting policy and outside of the Dublin newspapers nothing is being done to irritate either faction. Should a new leader be elected, it is believed that Sexton stands the best chance, although the prevalent wish of the McCarthyites is that Justin McCarthy should remain for the present. The Parnellites have not decided upon a contest for the Hennessy seat, made vacant by the death of Sir John Pope Hennessy. It is believed, however, that they will offer a candidate for the place. A Parnellite will certainly be put up for the seat of Mr. Parnell at Cork.

HICKS-BEACH ON PARNELL.
Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, speaking at the Union of the Conservative Associations, said that whatever judgment was ultimately formed of Parnell's character and career, all must admit his great political genius. He pursued his purpose through the most adverse circumstances with courage, energy and determination.

In regard to the vacant leadership in the House of Commons, Sir Michael declared that he could say on behalf of himself and others who had been mentioned to succeed Mr. Smith, that they did not understand what selfishness was in public service. He believed that every one of them would prefer some one else to hold the office. He accepted it most reluctantly in 1885, and insisted upon resigning in 1886 against the wishes of the Marquis of Salisbury and the remonstrances of Lord Randolph Churchill. He thought then, and he thought now, that another person would be better qualified for the post; therefore, he neither expected nor desired to have it conferred upon him. [Cries of hear! hear!] The meeting then passed a resolution asking the Government to introduce a measure to reduce the Irish representation in Parliament to an equitable ratio to that of the English and Scotch.

Sir Michael, in alluding to the menaces made against the House of Lords by the Liberals, said that he believed that no peer would attempt to intervene in the deliberation of the nation. Until the nation had renounced such judgment the House of Lords had a right to oppose the passing of a dangerous measure into a law.

CAPT. O'SHEA HEARD FROM.
A letter from Capt. O'Shea, written on the eve of Parnell's funeral, says:
There will be an immense demonstration tomorrow in London. I have been invited to the factious. I anticipate a period of recrimination. The time that this will take depends upon
